

CHILDREN’S PRIVACY POLICY

When a user of TOTALE is under the age of 14, Rosetta Stone Ltd., Rosetta Stone Korea Ltd. and their affiliates (“Rosetta Stone”) does not require the disclosure of more personally identifiable information than is reasonably necessary for him or her to participate in an activity as a condition of such participation.

Rosetta Stone may use different types of personally identifiable information submitted to this Site by children under 14 in a variety of ways, which are described above. In each instance, we comply with the parental consent requirements of Korean law.

Under no circumstances will the child be allowed to participate without giving a parent's email address.

Rosetta Stone will only use the child's personally identifiable information for internal purposes and will not share it with any third party. We may share anonymous, aggregated information with third parties, provided that it is not traceable to any particular user and will not identify you. We will only do so under a contract which requires the third party assisting us to keep such information confidential.

We may collect a child's name to the extent reasonably necessary to protect the security of this Site, to protect against liability or as required or permitted by law. Information collected for these reasons will not be used for any other purpose.

Users are asked to enter birth month and year, so that we may identify members that are under age 14, and prevent our under age 14 members from using features that might allow them to enter personal information without prior parental consent.
