

Share your voice – Share your knowledge Rosetta Stone Teacher Ambassador Program

Your Experience is Invaluable.

We are looking for innovative World Language and English Language educators to join our language-learning community. Our Ambassadors provide us with on-the-ground feedback about product performance and changing instruction needs, share success stories and classroom integration strategies, and help us spread the word about Rosetta Stone® products. That includes working with each other — and with Rosetta Stone — to explore new ideas and share resources and experiences that bring groundbreaking language-learning instruction to students.

How Teacher Ambassadors Participate

- Join our growing online community, engage with peers, and answer questions
- Submit photos, tips, and activity ideas using the product. We will feature your contributions on our social networks, including Facebook and Twitter.
- Write a post about your teaching experiences and other language-learning subjects for the Rosetta Stone Education blog
- Share Rosetta Stone blog posts on related third-party pages and with other teachers and communities
- Share your content and experiences with a Rosetta Stone program regularly on your personal pages (Twitter, Facebook)
- Participate in Rosetta Stone hosted Twitter chats
- Participate as presenters in Rosetta Stone sponsored webinars
- Engage with peers and answer questions on Facebook and Twitter
- Attend and present at upcoming conferences
- Provide us product feedback
- Participate in Focus Groups

Qualifications for Applying

- Currently teaching either World Language or English Learners using a Rosetta Stone program
- Teacher Ambassadors make a one-time commitment to submit two posts per month (one product-related, the other of your choosing) for three consecutive months.

Rosetta Stone will support you with more information on how to follow-up on the above activities as well as frequency of interactions required. Please fill-in the form to apply.

Connect and Collaborate

We hope you will share your language-teaching experiences and success stories with other educators from around the world. As a Teacher Ambassador, you will:

- Expand your own network of language educators
- Strengthen your connection to Rosetta Stone
- Receive insight that will enrich your own teaching experience

How to apply

Join educators across the nation and around the world who collaborate with Rosetta Stone to share ideas and find new ways to teach and learn. Click the button and fill out the form.
