Content Authoring customizes language training.

Our team of expert curriculum designers builds your custom language program, providing a proven instructional framework that helps achieve learning outcomes. Superior speech-recognition technology can be embedded throughout the program.

Our curriculum designers will work with you to analyze your organization's language-learning requirements and establish learning outcomes, design program requirements, develop lesson content, and implement your custom language-training program. Once the program is in place, our team will work with you to evaluate the program to ensure success.

Customized Live Tutoring boosts learner participation.

Instructor-led online classes deliver virtual live instruction to your learners. The curriculum is designed to your specific requirements and learner outcomes. Classes are restricted to your organization only, on a prearranged regular schedule for up to 10 learners per one-hour class.

Classes can be focused on conversational practice in specific settings or include specific vocabulary and grammar instruction. Learners will be able to interact and converse with a qualified tutor as well as other learners, building confidence as they speak their new language.
