Intuitive approach drives language acquisition.

Rosetta Stone® Language Learning Suite solutions provide understandable and engaging lessons—a proven combination for effective language learning.

- Language proficiency requires a lot of practice. We have created engaging environments that enable learners to revisit concepts without getting bored.
- Learners are much more likely to remember material when they actively think about it. Our solutions guide learners to think deeply, rather than superficially, about the concepts in which they are learning.
- Learners need a lot of exposure to a language while learning, and it must be understandable and engaging—and delivered at an appropriate difficulty-level based on the learner's proficiency. Our solutions provide content that is relevant to the objective being learned, so that activities remain within each learner's range of abilities.
- Language is inherently social, and learners develop proficiency by actively engaging in conversation. Our solutions offer opportunities to include live instruction with a tutor or mentor to foster the creative production of language.
