

Course Description

Rosetta Stone Catalyst - American English - Beginner, Intermediate & Advanced

Catalyst provides targeted learning paths to meet the needs of beginner, intermediate and advanced English (American) language learners. You are placed in the language-learning path with just the right level of challenge and engagement for your level. All lessons and activities are available both on web and on our mobile apps for iOS and Android, making learning possible anytime, anywhere—even offline. In addition, learners who have access to live tutoring can sharpen conversational skills with one of our native-speaking tutors in small group sessions with other learners at the same level or in a private session.

If you are a beginner learner, the program develops everyday conversational skills by guiding you through a self-paced environment that builds your speaking confidence. The e-learning targets speaking, listening, reading, and writing skills through engaging images, video and audio content and activities.

If you are an intermediate learner, the program refines your existing language skills to support your specific business and needs. You are presented with rich audio and video content that covers everyday situations, job-specific and industry-specific topics. You have selectable learning paths and lessons to reinforce grammar and increase vocabulary.

If you are an advanced learner, the program develops English language skills that correlate directly to day-to-day work tasks. It delivers advanced language training to improve business-specific communication skills, with content adaptable to industry and culture. You are provided with actionable feedback that improves skills and speaking confidence.
