

“Madelyn was inspired by her friends to make this piece of art– she realized that she had friends from many different countries, and she wanted to show how they are all connected.”